2 Swissmedic Portal – A brief explanation

The Swissmedic Portal is based on a context-sensitive structure. A context is listed as a portal tab in the Swissmedic Portal tab bar and shows a specific business context (either data view or process view).

The navigation is designed to be intuitive and allows you to switch between different contexts by selecting the relevant tab.

When you access the Swissmedic Portal, the available data structure is displayed in accordance with your user profile. Within this structure, you can navigate to business data and view the corresponding content, and you can also initiate specific actions (processes).

The Swissmedic Portal is being developed and expanded, which is why the currently available functions are still limited. However, the range of functions will be continuously enhanced with each new version.

This user manual will be updated with each new version of the Swissmedic Portal, so that you will always have access to the latest instructions for the available functions.
